Choice A

WOODY “Toy Story”

Why would Andy want you?! Look at you! You're a Buzz Lightyear. Any other toy would give up his moving parts just to be you. You've got wings, you glow in the dark, you talk, your helmet does that — that whoosh thing -- you are a COOL toy. As a matter of fact you're too cool. I mean -- I mean what chance does a toy like me have against a Buzz Lightyear action figure? All I can do is... (pulls its own pull-string dejectedly) Why would Andy ever want to play with me, when he's got you? I'm the one that should be strapped to that rocket. Listen Buzz, forget about me. You should get out of here while you can.

Choice B

MULAN, “Disney’s Mulan JR”

Why does it matter if I’m a girl? Isn’t what I can do more important than what I look like? I should have never left home. I just went to save my father’s life. Who knew I’d end up shaming him, disgracing my Ancestors, and losing all my friends? Maybe I didn’t go just for my father. Maybe what I really wanted was to prove I could do something right. To know that I could be more than just someone’s daughter or someone’s wife. So when I looked in the mirror... I see nothing. Well, I’ll have to face my father sooner or later. Let’s just go home.

Choice C

SANTA, “Elf JR”

Once upon a time there was this young woman, Susan Welles, she had a baby, but she passed away soon after he was born. That baby was put in an orphanage, and one Christmas night he crawled into my toy sack, and I brought him back here by mistake. The elves took him in, raised him as one of their own.

Buddy, it’s you! It’s your story! You have a human father, but he never knew that you were born. He lives in a faraway land called New York City.
